

Name

Rajko Petković

Academic position

Assistant Professor

Contact

e-mail: rpetkovi@unizd.hr

phone: 023 200 548

Office hours

Monday 15:30 – 17:00 and by appointment

Short biography

Rajko Petković was born in 1972 in Zadar, where he finished his high school education. He graduated in English language and literature, Sociology and Philosophy at the Faculty of Philosophy in Zadar. In 1997 he enrolled in the postgraduate course in American Studies at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences in Zagreb and in 2002 defended his M. A. thesis 'Film Noir and its Heritage in American Film'. In 2003 he started working at the Teacher Training College in Gospić. In 2009 he defended his PhD thesis in Film Studies – 'American Independent Film of the Eighties and the Nineties'. In 2010 he started working as Senior Assistant at the English Department at the University of Zadar. Since 2012, he holds a position of Associate Professor and teaches courses on film studies. He is a member of Association for American Studies in South East Europe. Along with film noir and American independent film, his research interests include the history of film style, Croatian film, animated film and classical Hollywood.

Publications:

<https://bib.irb.hr/lista-radova?autor=334376>