

Sveučilište u Zadru
Odjel za turizam i komunikacijske znanosti
organizira predavanje pod nazivom

"Pitfalls of Misinterpreting Econometric and Statistical Data and Results: Cautionary Tales"

Predavač:

prof. dr. sc. Robert (Tino) Sonora,
School of Business at Fort Lewis College

Četvrtak, 28. svibnja 2015. u 11:00 sati
Multimedijalna dvorana (117) Novoga kampusa
Ul. Dr. Franje Tuđmana 24i

O predavaču:

Dr. Robert (Tino) Sonora is Professor of Economics in the School of Business at Fort Lewis College and is Director of the Office of Business and Economic Research.

His current research interests include: monetary economics, monetary policy, transition economics, international trade, intranational macroeconomics, and international finance.

His publications can be found in the International Economic Review, Review of Financial Economics, and the Czech Journal of Economics and Finance, among others. Since coming to Fort Lewis he has been a monthly columnist for the Durango Herald, made numerous presentations at state and local conferences and lectures as well as international academic conferences in Europe and the United States.

Dr. Sonora has been quoted in numerous media outlets from the Four Corners Business Journal to The Rocky Mountain News, The Financial Times, Impacto (Mexico), and Jutarnji List (Croatia).

He is a current member of the Colorado Business Economic Outlook Committee, the American Economic Association, Euro Area Business Cycle Network, International Atlantic Economic Society, Korean American Economic Association, Association of University Business and Economic Researchers, and the American Society of Hispanic Economists.

Prior to coming to Fort Lewis College he was an Assistant Professor of Economics at the University of Texas at Arlington and Instructor of Economics at Ohio Wesleyan University. He has also been a Visiting Professor of Economics at El Centro Universitario de Ciencias Económico Administrativas at the University of Guadalajara, Mexico and the Faculty of Economics and Business at the University of Zagreb, Croatia. In 2009 and 2013 he was Fulbright Scholar at the University of Zagreb and is co-Editor at the Zagreb International Review of Economics and Business.