Learning outcomes | The course develops the following generic competencies:
- a) instrumental competencies: cognitive abilities; understanding and dealing with ideas and concepts; analysis and synthesis, ability to solve problems
- b) interpersonal competencies: ability of critical argumentation; ability of team work; social interaction and co-operation with others
- c) systematic competencies: individual work; ability to compare different approaches and knowledge structures, critical thinking
By the end of the course the students will be able to:
- define and describe basic syntactic concepts
- analyze the relationship between the constituents of simple and complex sentences and their functions
- apply the knowledge about the relationship between constituents of simple and complex sentences and their functions in syntactic descriptions and production of simple and complex sentences of the English language
Learning outcomes at the Programme | - identify and describe relevant concepts and ideas
Course Description

The course offers a detailed overview of the structure and constituents of simple and complex sentences in the English language. Students are acquainted with basic syntactic structures, which are identified, interpreted, and analyzed. Furthermore, students are acquainted with different theoretical frameworks by means of which these phenomena are analyzed, primarily within the traditional, transformational-generative and cognitive approaches. In that way, students develop critical thinking towards basic syntactic theoretical frameworks.

Calculation of final grade

The final grade is formed on the basis of the mean value of the percentages obtained on the mid-term and end-term exams. If both are not positively evaluated, the student has to take the final exam. In that case, the final grade is formed on the basis of the results obtained on the final exam. If the student is not satisfied with the mean value from mid-term and end-term exams, he/she can take the final exam.

Note /Other

In accordance with Art. 6 of the Code of Ethics of the Committee for Ethics in Science and Higher Education, “the student is expected to fulfil his/her obligations honestly and ethically, to pursue academic excellence, to be civilized, respectful and free from prejudice.”

According to Art. 14 of the University of Zadar's Code of Ethics, students are expected to “fulfil their responsibilities responsibly and conscientiously. […] Students are obligated to safeguard the reputation and dignity of all members of the university community and the University of Zadar as a whole, to promote moral and academic values and principles. […] Any act constituting a violation of academic honesty is ethically prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to:
- various forms of fraud such as the use or possession of books, notes, data, electronic gadgets or other aids during examinations, except when permitted;
- various forms of forgery such as the use or possession of unauthorised materials during the exam; impersonation and attendance at exams on behalf of other students; fraudulent study documents; forgery of signatures and grades; falsifying exam results.”

All forms of unethical behaviour will result in a negative grade in the course without the possibility of compensation or repair. In case of serious violations the Rulebook on Disciplinary Responsibility of Students at the University of Zadar will be applied.

In electronic communications only messages coming from known addresses with a first and a last name, and which are written in the Croatian standard and appropriate academic style, will be responded to.

This course uses the Merlin system for e-learning, so students are required to have an AAI account.
